Tom Miranda Bow Hunting Safaris

Tom Miranda's Texas Bow Hunting Camp

Introducing the Tom Miranda Bow Hunting Camp at the Lazy CK Ranch. During two separate camps each year, Mr. Miranda will be at the Lazy CK filming for his tv show Territories Wild on the Outdoor Channel. Not only will the guests get to join Tom at meal time, they will also get some signed Miranda memorabilia. For the guests that are lucky enough to be in camp while he is, he will also do some instructional type videos and teaching seminars on shot placements and bow techniques. After all the fun of a day of hunting with Mr. Miranda is over, the guests will join Tom around the camp fire for a cold beverage and some stories about his adventures over his 30+ year career as a bow hunter.

The Lazy CK encompasses more than 7K acres of prime Texas hill country land. The ranch has over 20 different types of exotic animals from all over the world. In addition to those animals we also have over 1700 of both native and genetic whitetail deer that score anywhere from the low 100" all the way up to 250"+. We are also home to many native Rio Grande turkey, as well.

Mr. Miranda and his PH (Professional Hunter) Zak Grobler from South Africa spent over 5 weeks at the Lazy CK in the Fall of 2018 transforming the hunting grounds into a bow hunter's paradise. They, along with our staff, set up over 25 bow hunting areas and stands. They range from double bull blinds, to ladder stands, to pit blinds, and elevated pop up blinds. They even put a blind in one of our old windmills.
